

The History of Art in Irvington

For many years artists within the Irvington area have enjoyed community support. From 1928 - 1937, a series of annual exhibits of Irvington artists attracted not only local interest, but attention from around the state. Many of the pieces that resident artists such as William Forsyth, Helene Hibben, Clifton Wheeler, Charles Yeager and Carolyn Bradley showcased during this 10 year period are property of the Irvington Historical Society and are often on display at the Bona Thompson Center in Irvington.

Photography Club

The Irvington Photography Club was Established in 2004 to create an environment for avid photographers to share their interest in photography. We work in collaboration with the Irvington Guild of Artists creating opportunities to exhibit and sell our work. As part of this organization you will have the opportunity to join us on field trips, exhibit as a group at both Irvington Guild of Artists Walk in the Park and an Irvington venue, learn from experts on specific lectured topics, and have our photos judged at least three times as we prepare for state competition you will also be welcome to participate in our ongoing exhibit at Lazy Days coffee house.

Irvington Guild of Artists

The Irvington Guild of Artists was formally organized 2001 to support Irvington artists and bring greater awareness to the Arts in Irvington. The mission of the Guild is to promote Irvington as a center of advancement of the arts by educating and sponsoring art exhibitions and assisting the development of artists in their medium. Through the continued support from patrons like you, the history and longevity of the Arts in Irvington will continue.
